CHIP is a perfect solution for parents whose children are uninsured for any reason. Pennsylvanians have trusted Geisinger Health Plan for their healthcare coverage for more than 25 years — and GHP Kids makes it easy to apply for CHIP coverage. There's no waiting list for CHIP coverage. Even if you're insured, you can still get your child's health insurance through CHIP.

Does your child qualify?

To be eligible, your child must meet the following requirements:

- Under the age of 19
- A Pennsylvania resident
- A U.S. citizen, U.S. national or qualified alien
- Uninsured and not eligible for or covered by Medical Assistance

What types of CHIP coverage are there?

For most families, CHIP is free. For others, it's low-cost. The cost of coverage is determined by your family size and household income. Either way, CHIP benefits are the same for all. No family makes too much money for CHIP coverage.

What's covered?

CHIP offers comprehensive coverage including doctor visits, routine checkups, dental, vision, and hearing services, emergency and hospital care, prescription drugs, and more.
