

Clinical scholarship and nursing research

Katharine Douaihy (Widener Univ. PhD candidate), Terri Bickert. (2007-08).

The Relationship Between the Emotional Burden of Type 2 Diabetes and Glycemic Control and Differences in Emotional Burden and Glycemic Control Among individuals Treated with Oral Antidiabetic Agents, Insulin, and Combination Therapy.

This study explored the relationship between the emotional burden of DM and glycemic control in individuals with Type 2 DM. It also examined the differences in emotional burden and glycemic control among individuals with Type 2 DM on oral medications, an incretin mimetic, insulin, and combination therapy (oral medications and incretin mimetic; oral medications, incretin mimetic, and insulin; incretin mimetic and insulin).