Spread the word, not the flu

Flu season is around the corner, so spread the word: you cannot get the flu from receiving a flu shot. In fact, preventive antibodies develop approximately two weeks after receiving the vaccination, so you’re protected rather quickly!

With that said, if you’re six months old or older, excluding rare exceptions, you should be the first in line for your yearly flu vaccination.

Visit your primary care provider or a participating pharmacy to receive your vaccination. To search for pharmacies in your area, visit GeisingerHealthPlan.com. There’s no charge for the flu shot if received from a doctor or pharmacy in our network.*

*If at a pharmacy, the vaccine must be administered by a pharmacist and billed through the pharmacy claims system. Not all pharmacies offer flu vaccines. There are state regulations, such as age, regarding who can receive a vaccine from a pharmacist.

New approval requirements for opioids

Opioid addiction and abuse is a serious health issue in the United States. Geisinger Health Plan is committed to the health and well-being of our members, and new state-wide changes to opioid prescription approval requirements will help us ensure you are receiving the care you need in the safest way possible. These changes will occur in three phases throughout 2018 and 2019. Members with active cancer, sickle cell crisis or palliative care/hospice are exempt from these changes.

We are working on processes with doctors to help ensure our members receive appropriate care, including long-acting or high dose opioids if needed. If you have any questions or concerns about this change, please consult your doctor or call our pharmacy customer service team.
Abuse can happen to anyone. People often do not think men can be victims of abuse. Some men are abused and may not seek medical care or other help for the abuse. This may be because they feel like it should not happen to them. They may feel shame or fear. They may not believe there is help for them. Victims may also have problems such as addiction, depression, physical or other health problems to cope with the abuse. There are doctors and domestic abuse programs that will help.

From a young age, men may be taught not to show or feel emotions. Some may not know they are being abused. Types of abuse may be:

- Blamed for all problems
- Control of money, food or time
- Being called names
- Kept from family or friends
- Kept from work
- Being hit or choked
- Made to have unwanted or unsafe sex

Men with same-sex partners may be told:

- They are not really gay
- Men are naturally violent
- No one will help
- Family, friends and coworkers will be told

If you are a victim of abuse it is not your fault. It is common for people who abuse to deny that they abuse. They may blame the victim for the abuse. If you need support find a domestic abuse program near you in the link below. They will help anyone who is a victim of abuse. This includes a man with a woman, man, trans or partner who identifies another way.

To find the domestic abuse program nearest you, visit http://pcadv.org and click on Find Help or use the Find Help map on the home page.

To reach the National Domestic Violence Hotline, call 1-800-799-SAFE (7233). For TTY 1-800-787-3224.

Protect your kids from lead poisoning

As a parent, you have the instinctual need to protect your children. But when a potential danger, such as lead poisoning, isn’t clearly visible, it becomes an easy – and sometimes dangerous – oversight, possibly costing your children the health and protection they deserve.

What is lead poisoning?

Lead poisoning is the result of being exposed to high levels of lead. It is known to affect people of all ages, but unborn children and children under the age of six are especially vulnerable to its dangers. It can have severe effects on a child’s physical and mental development, including issues with learning, hearing or speech.

How do I protect my children?

It’s best to evaluate your home for any lead-based sources, eliminating them as needed. Consider things like lead-based paint (common in houses built before 1978) and lead-based plumbing, which can release lead particles into your home’s water supply.

More specifically, though, medical professionals recommend that all children – especially under the age of two – receive a professional lead screening from their family doctor.

What should I do now?

Protect your kids, of course! Call your primary care provider to schedule a lead screening for your children today. Routine screenings are encouraged before a child turns two, but better late than never!
