V. Additional Definitions
Medical Necessity or Medically Necessary means Covered Services rendered by a Health Care Provider that the Plan determines are:

- appropriate for the symptoms and diagnosis or treatment of the Member's condition, illness, disease or injury;
- provided for the diagnosis, and the direct care and treatment of the Member's condition, illness disease or injury;
- in accordance with current standards of good medical treatment practiced by the general medical community.
- not primarily for the convenience of the Member, or the Member's Health Care Provider; and
- the most appropriate source or level of service that can safely be provided to the Member. When applied to hospitalization, this further means that the Member requires acute care as an inpatient due to the nature of the services rendered or the Member's condition, and the Member cannot receive safe or adequate care as an outpatient.

Medicaid Business Segment
Medically Necessary — A service, item, procedure, or level of care that is necessary for the proper treatment or management of an illness, injury, or disability is one that:

- Will, or is reasonably expected to, prevent the onset of an illness, condition, injury or disability.
- Will, or is reasonably expected to, reduce or ameliorate the physical, mental or developmental effects of an illness, condition, injury or disability.
Will assist the Member to achieve or maintain maximum functional capacity in performing daily activities, taking into account both the functional capacity of the Member and those functional capacities that are appropriate for Members of the same age.

DESCRIPTION:
Ventricular assist device (VAD) is a mechanical pump that provides circulatory support for patients whose heart can no longer pump blood effectively due to heart failure. VAD’s are used temporarily in patients awaiting a heart transplant when their hearts are so severely damaged that the risk of death is imminent and in patients following open heart surgery with severe but anticipated reversible dysfunction. VAD’s are also used as destination therapy in patients with end-stage heart failure without the intention of eventual heart transplantation.

Geisinger Health Plan requires prior authorization through Cohere for Cardiology services for members enrolled in its Commercial HMO and PPO, Medicare Advantage.
