- (i) the service or benefit will, or is reasonably expected to, prevent the onset of an illness, condition or disability.
- (ii) the service or benefit will, or is reasonably expected to, reduce or ameliorate the physical, mental or development effects of an illness, condition, injury or disability.
- (iii) the service or benefit will assist the Member to achieve or maintain maximum functional capacity in performing daily activities, taking into account both the functional capacity of the Member and those functional capacities that are appropriate for members of the same age

DESCRIPTION:

Actemra IV (tocilizumab) is a humanized interleukin-6 receptor –inhibiting monoclonal antibody. It competes for both membrane-bound and soluble forms of the human interleukin-6 receptor, thus inhibiting the binding of interleukin to its receptors and leading to the blockade of interleukin-6 signaling through the soluble and membrane-bound interleukin-6 receptors. Interleukin-6 is a pro- inflammatory cytokine commonly expressed in patients with rheumatoid arthritis.
