DESCRIPTION:
Dry hydrotherapy, also known as aquamassage and/or hydromassage, is a technique where a patient either lies or sits on a waterbed-like device that contains interior jets, which rotate and pulsate while releasing streams of pressurized heated water along the patient's body. This heated hydrotherapy is delivered in a dry environment. Dry hydrotherapy is intended to increase blood circulation, which the manufacturer packet claims will then lead to increased oxygen intake into the muscles, the purported benefits include lower blood pressure, increased range of motion, and increased endorphins which increase pain tolerance. The unit comes in two forms, a chair and a bed.

EXCLUSIONS: The Plan does NOT provide coverage for Dry Hydrotherapy as a treatment for any indication because it is considered experimental, investigational or unproven. There is insufficient peer-reviewed, published medical literature to show the use of devices such as, but not limited to AquaMed, Aqua Massage, H2OMassage System, Hydrotherapy Tables devices are better than or equal to traditional rehabilitation modalities.

Note: A complete description of the process by which a given technology or service is evaluated and determined to be experimental, investigational or unproven is outlined in MP 15 - Experimental Investigational or Unproven Services or Treatment.
