- Will, or is reasonably expected to, prevent the onset of an illness, condition, injury or disability.
- Will, or is reasonably expected to, reduce or ameliorate the physical, mental or developmental effects of an illness, condition, injury or disability.

DESCRIPTION:
Voice therapy is an approach to the treatment of voice disorders that incorporates a series of individualized behavioral treatment techniques which aims to minimize and correct maladaptive and inappropriate vocal disorders. Voice disorders are characterized by pitch, loudness, resonance, quality or duration of voice or by the inability to use one’s voice. The disorders result from abnormal laryngeal, respiratory or vocal tract functioning. Voice therapy includes four major components: vocal hygiene, vocal production, muscle relaxation and respiratory support.

INDICATIONS: Voice therapy may be considered medically necessary for the restoration of the ability to produce speech from the larynx for any of the following conditions, which are refractory to a 2 week period of voice rest.

- Post-surgical or post traumatic injury to the vocal cords
- Post laryngeal carcinoma; or
- Vocal cord paralysis and paresis; or
- Vocal cord nodules; or
- Spastic dysphonia; or
- As part of gender confirmation treatment (Please reference MP307 - Gender Dysphoria and Gender Confirmation Treatment)

From initial evaluation through the entire course of treatment, all of the following must be met:

- The presence of a clinically documented functional speech disorder resulting in an inability to perform at the previous functional level
- Documentation supports an expectation by the prescribing physician that measurable improvement is anticipated in a reasonable and predictable period of time for the particular diagnosis and phase of recovery.

EXCLUSIONS:
- Voice therapy for the purpose of accent reduction or acquisition; or
- Voice therapy solely for vocational or recreational purposes; or
- Laryngitis due to viral infection or vocal abuse; or
- Maintenance program performed to maintain a level of function (exception: within the Medicaid business segment coverage to maintain a current level of function will be considered for coverage if found to be medically necessary)

There is insufficient evidence in the current peer-reviewed, published medical literature to support the use of the computer based voice analysis software (i.e. EZ Voice PLUS) for any application at this time. The use of this device is considered experimental, investigational or unproven and is NOT COVERED.

Medicaid Business Segment:
Any requests for services, that do not meet criteria set in the PARP, may be evaluated on a case by case basis.

Note: A complete description of the process by which a given technology or service is evaluated and determined to be experimental, investigational or unproven is outlined in MP 15 - Experimental Investigational or Unproven Services or Treatment.
