

About Geisinger Janet Weis Children's Hospital

Located in Danville, Geisinger Janet Weis Children's Hospital, the local Children's Miracle Network Hospital, partners with pediatricians to provide personalized specialty care for children from birth through young adulthood.

No matter what health concern a child faces, they will receive the top-notch care they need close to home. From the neonatal intensive care unit (NICU), pediatric intensive care unit (PICU) and dedicated pediatric emergency zone to the inpatient unit and outpatient clinics throughout central and northeast Pennsylvania, the pediatric care team is dedicated to making exceptional pediatric care available to every child in every community.

Families don't have to travel to Danville to receive care. Pediatric specialists are also available in Geisinger clinics throughout Pennsylvania. Geisinger Lewistown Hospital works as a western hub for pediatric services, while Geisinger Healthplex State College offers a primary care clinic with more than a dozen pediatric specialty outreach clinics.

Fast Facts

More than 150,000 children treated annually

Highest level of critical care (level IV) offered in the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit

More than 30 subspecialties

A dedicated Pediatric Emergency Zone

Patients served in the western region

