“Our human compassion binds us the one to the other
– not in pity or patronizingly, but as human beings who have learnt how to turn our common sufferings into hope for the future.”

Nelson Mandela

In 2002, the Arnold P. Gold Foundation established the Gold Humanism Honor Society as a signature program to recognize medical students, residents and faculty who practice patient-centered care by modeling the qualities of integrity, excellence, compassion, altruism, respect and empathy.

The humanistic doctor demonstrates the following attributes:

Integrity

The congruence between expressed values and behavior.

Excellence

Clinical expertise.

Compassion

The awareness and acknowledgement of the suffering of another and the desire to relieve it.

Altruism

The capacity to put the needs and interests of another before your own.

Respect

The regard for the autonomy and values of another person.

Empathy

The ability to put oneself in another's situation, e.g., physician as patient.

Service

The sharing of one's talent, time and resources with those in need; giving beyond what is required.
