HEALTH PLAN

Need a little extra support? We've got you covered.

When you think about healthcare, things like affordable housing, utility assistance, fresh produce, and reliable transportation might not be the first things that come to mind. But they're essential to living a healthy, happy life. That's why Geisinger takes a whole-health approach — because your well-being goes beyond doctor visits. We're here to connect you with social care resources when you need them most.

Utility bills getting out of hand? Let's make it easier.

Neighborly

Staying warm during the winter is about more than comfort. It's vital for your health. That's where neighborlypa.com comes in. Just pop in your zip code and you'll find local organizations ready to help with heating assistance, home maintenance, and weatherization.

You have more options, too. Your local utility provider may offer discounts, energy-saving tips, and programs to help lower your bills. Plus, regulated utility companies are required to provide assistance. Check out the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission's website at PUC.pa.gov. Under "Need help with your utility bills?" click "Learn more." Then, under "Assistance Programs," click "Find support."

The bottom line: You're not alone. Whether you need help staying warm, eating well, or finding reliable transportation, we're here to help you live your healthiest life — inside and outside the doctor's office.

Protect yourself this flu season

Getting a flu shot isn't just about avoiding the flu — it helps keep you healthy, reduces your risk of serious complications, and protects those around you. A quick vaccine can mean fewer sick days and more time enjoying what matters most. Don't wait until symptoms strike — prevention is key.

Call your healthcare provider today to schedule your flu shot or visit geisinger.org/flu for information and locations.

Your voice matters

Your feedback can make a real difference in your healthcare experience. If you receive a CAHPS (Consumer Assessment of Healthcare Providers and Systems) survey this spring, here's your chance to speak up.

Surveys are sent out from March through May. Completing one only takes a few minutes and your answers are confidential. Every response helps us understand what's working and what needs improvement — so we can provide you with the best care possible.

So, if a CAHPS survey lands in your mailbox or inbox, take a moment to fill it out. It's fast, easy, and makes a big impact.

Dental health and domestic violence

When someone is being hurt at home, it doesn't always show in ways we expect. Sometimes, the signs are in their mouth. Broken teeth, jaw pain or cuts inside the mouth can be signs that a person has been hurt by someone close to them.

People who are being abused might also miss dental appointments or go a long time without care. This might be because of money, fear or someone stopping them from getting help.

Here are some signs that might mean someone needs support:

- Mouth or face injuries that happen more than once
- Trouble eating, smiling, or talking, without a clear reason

- A friend or family member who isn't allowed to speak for themselves or seems closely watched

If you notice something that worries you, it's okay to gently check in. You don't need all the answers to show you care. Listen, believe them and share info about help if it feels safe for them to talk.

Many Community Health Centers (CHCs) provide dental care. People can find their local CHC using this link: my.pachc.org/Find-a-Health-Center.

If you or someone you care about is experiencing domestic violence, help is available. Find your local domestic violence program on the Pennsylvania Coalition Against Domestic Violence website. Please visit: pcadv.org/find-help/find-your-local-domestic-violence-program to find a program near you. The services offered by these programs are provided at no cost. These services are confidential.

Let your voice be heard!
