

Geisinger Cardiogenic Shock Symposium

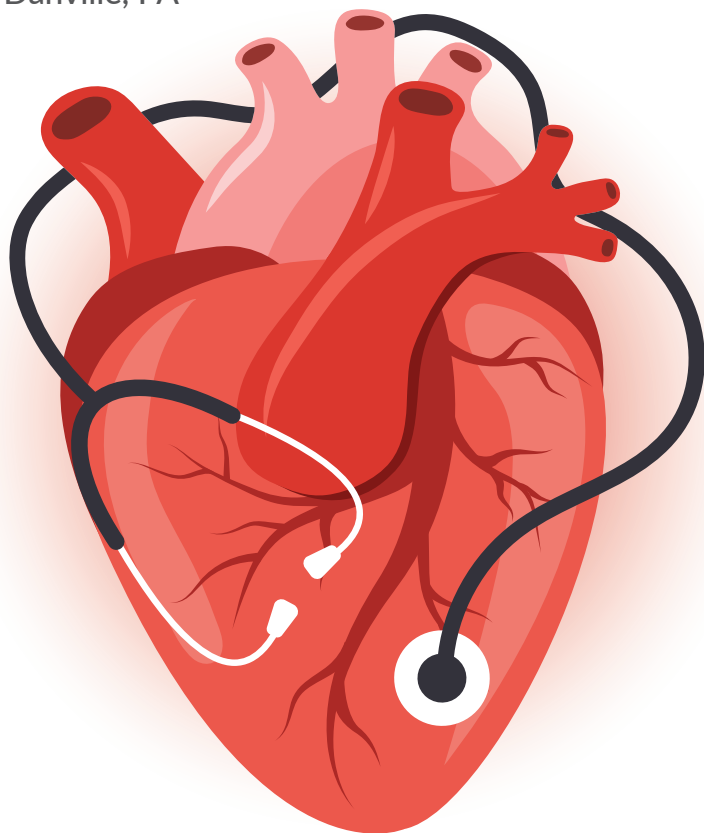

Explore the latest advances in the diagnosis and management of cardiogenic shock with nationally recognized experts at this CME-accredited conference.

Saturday, Sept. 19

Registration/breakfast: 7:30 a.m.

Event: 8 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.

Henry Hood Center for Health Research
Danville, PA

Learn from leading experts

Hear from distinguished guest speakers representing some of the nation's top academic medical centers including:

David Dudzinski, MD, JD

Massachusetts General Hospital & Harvard Medical School

The Role of Noninvasive Imaging in Managing Cardiogenic Shock

Joyce Wald, DO

University of Pennsylvania

Heart Transplantation in Cardiogenic Shock: Changes in Practice Since Recent Guideline Updates

Sarah Thordsen, MD

University of Wisconsin

Peripartum Cardiomyopathy Leading to Cardiogenic Shock

Balakrishnan Mahesh, MD

Penn State Health

Management of Right Ventricular Failure Following Cardiac Surgery: The Role of Surgical RVADs

Plus sessions on:

- Team-based cardiogenic shock management
- Temporary mechanical circulatory support
- Durable ventricular assist devices
- Coronary revascularization strategies
- Valvular heart disease in cardiogenic shock
- Right ventricular failure
- Mechanical circulatory support for pulmonary embolism

Geisinger

Register today

Scan the QR code or visit
go.geisinger.edu/cardiogenic

